$100,000 Line Of Credit

Trash route and roll-off business

Diamond Business Credit recently closed and funded a $100,000 working capital line of credit for a company that provides roll-off and trash pick-up route services.

The company faced numerous challenges in securing credit including a lack of any significant profit history and an inability to provide a substantive personal guaranty.

This business has, however, built a strong book of contract business and a good pipeline of new prospects. Critical mass has been reached and capital was required to pay the dumping fees and drivers.

Our $100,000 credit line was approved and funded quickly enabling the company to meet the rapidly building demand. And, with no long-term contracts or minimums, this company can "graduate" to bank financing as soon as able.

...Another Diamond success story!
